MODERATO

Wake dearest, wake! and a_ gain u ___ ni _ ted, We'll rove by yonder sea; And where our first vows of love were plighted, Our last farewell shall be: There oft I've gaz'd on thy smiles de __ lighted; And there I'll part from thee, I_sa_bel! I_sa_bel! I_sa_bel! One look, tho' that look is in sorrow; Fare thee well, fare thee well, fare thee well! Far hence I shall wander to morrow: Ah me! Ah me!

2

Dark is my doom, and from thee I sever,
Whom I have lov'd alone;
'T were cruel to link thy fate for ever,
With sorrows like my own;
Go smile on livelier friends and never
Lament me when I'm gone.
Isabel! Isabel! Isabel!
One look, tho' that look is in sorrow;
Farethee well, Fare thee well, Fare thee well!
Far hence I shall wander tomorrow:
Ah me! Ah me!

3

And when at length in these lovely bowers,
Some happier youth you see;
And you cull for him spring's sweetest flowers,
And he sings of love to thee:
When you laugh with him at these vanish'd hours,
Oh! tell him to love like me.
Isabel! &c. &c.
